THE THEATERS

With three theaters representing original and ultra as well as large programs for the Savoy, Bijou and Park should have unusually large opening night audiences. Tonight marks the grand reopening of the Park theater, Fort street, for the entire summer season, marking also the closing down for the summer of the Empire for evening performances. It will be kept open only for the three matinees a week for moving pictures, without vaudeville.

The reopening of the Park will serve to reintroduce Harry and Haines, the originators of ragtime, who were here last year, whirlwind dancers and singers; the Tyrrells, juvenile artists, fresh from a successful engagement in Canada, an unusually bright team of young people with real talent, and Aldine and Cassidy, the pantomime comedy acrobats and tumblers, who made an immense success at the Bijou last week. They will put on "Fan in a Chinese Laundry," tonight. There will also be new moving pictures.

At the Bijou the famous Wirth Family of acrobats, from Australia, will make their local debut. They combine juggling, tumbling, pantomime, acrobatics, wire-walking and many other novel stunts, with comedy running all through. The Melnotte Twins and Clay Smith will present more musical patter and artistic nonsense, and Ryan and Ryan, the clog dancers, will put on more funnyisms and impersonations. The Skatells will appear for only three days this week. They will put on their regular act tonight, the best they have, and never before shown in Honolulu. This is their hardest act. The Skatells have been pleased with their Honolulu reception and appreciate it.

At the Savoy, Christian, the Danish violinist, will entertain on his silver fiddle. This is an unusual act and full of musical entertainment. The Ragtime Trio will feature for this week their German dialect song, "Schnitzelbunk," a screamer, and also "Todalio the Toidalio." Miss Lynbrooke will sing tonight only, as she leaves tomorrow for Hilo to fill an engagement. All new motion pictures.
